FAIRER THAN ANY VISION

Fairer than any vision,
When first I saw thee smile,
I took thee for an angel,
And sorrow ceased awhile.
A light from heaven then seemd to break above thee,
And so I love thee!

Dearer and ever dearer,
When first I saw those eyes
Weeping for human sorrow,
In pity for my sighs;
Then first I saw how much my grief could move thee,
And Oh! I love thee!
